

NEEDED: ADULTS WITH MS

This voluntary research offers you the opportunity to learn more about the treatments options in MS while contributing to investigate the best way to offer online information to adults with MS.

You may qualify to participate in this voluntary research if you:

- Have 18 years or more
- Have been diagnosed with MS and
- Have access to internet connection (the study and the questionnaires are online).

The purpose of this voluntary study is to investigate the role that the cognitive style of person with MS may have on learning performance and perception of online learning using two instructional designs with the same information on MS. The websites “Deciphering MS treatment” will cover the latest information on MS related treatments.
