We want everyone to feel respected and be empowered to bring their whole selves to ensure we make the best decisions to achieve our mission.

CULTURAL VALUES

- Innovate and continuously learn
- Deploy resources to their greatest potential with integrity and accountability

75 YEARS OF PROGRESS

Sylvia Lawry founded the National MS Society in 1946 to find a cure for her brother, Bernard. Her New York Times ad sparked a global movement that changed the world for people affected by MS. Today we have quicker diagnosis, treatments to slow progression, greater awareness and understanding of the disease and a passionate and supportive community. The Society has been the driving force in this progress.

PLANNING DURING AN UNPRECEDENTED TIME

Accelerating progress was interrupted by a historic pandemic with restrictions around social gathering and an economic recession. At the same time, greater societal awareness of racial disparities compelled us to closely examine practices and behaviors.

We will carry forward the innovative tools and technology developed, the lessons learned from adapting to a changed world, and the commitment to ensure diversity, equity and inclusion in everything we do.

Resourcing our ambitious plans to cure MS, while we empower people affected by MS to live their best lives, requires fundraising. We must invest in people and innovations to raise the revenue needed to fuel our work.

FY2022-2024 STRATEGIC PLAN

This integrated plan guides the impact we will achieve through 2024. It addresses the unique experiences of all people affected by MS and our role in reaching that future, while highlighting our firmly held belief—together we are stronger.
