“This is a good starting point to learn about more about MS, the struggles of parent and child...[and] gives perspective and practical advice in sharing actual experiences.”
— Program Participant
We are bringing the world together to cure MS for every single person — as fast as possible.

To accelerate Pathways to Cures, the Society launched 15 new research grants and 29 new fellowship/early career awards to support the MS workforce.

The new Global Research Strategy Framework collaboration joins the largest research-funding MS advocacy organizations to conduct a global landscape of current MS research investments. They will analyze gaps and opportunities increase international collaboration and to align funding to advance Pathways to Cures.

Dr. Ruth Ann Marrie of the University of Manitoba received the Barancik Prize for Innovation in MS Research for her landmark discoveries that deepen understanding of how MS evolves. Her work informs Pathways to Cures and paves the way to more personalized medicine to stop and even prevent MS.

* Green light represents excellent progress toward implementation milestones

Reaching a world free of MS will take all of us — our time, our energy, our resources. Together is the only way forward.
